

Housing in Ann Arbor: Longer stays

Participants who attend the First and/or Second Sessions will need to make housing arrangements for four weeks (one session) or eight weeks (both sessions). Past participants have typically sub-leased a room or an apartment. An ideal location is within walking distance of the University of Michigan central campus, where all four-week courses will be held. Recommended neighborhoods for housing include Kerrytown, Germantown, the Old West Side, and the western half of the Burns Park area. Since housing in Ann Arbor is in high demand, we strongly encourage participants to make housing arrangements well before their arrival in Ann Arbor; it doesn't hurt to start looking for a sublet in March or April.

Be sure to ask the subletter if the unit is furnished, if bedding is needed, if there are cooking utensils, a dishwasher, a microwave, a refrigerator with a freezer, a four-top stove with an oven, and air-conditioning or fans. Be aware that a fan and cross-ventilation is not "just as good" as air conditioning; Ann Arbor summers can be extremely warm and humid. Equally important is the general cleanliness of the rental unit; inquire in advance to avoid any unpleasant surprises. Be precise as well regarding the number of people who will occupy the apartment and the exact dates of occupancy.

Below are some resources for finding summer housing. Please contact us if you have any questions or difficulties in regards to housing.

University of Michigan Off-Campus Housing

The U-M Off-Campus Housing website compiles listings submitted by students and property managers. The website also features a map, so that you can see how close a residence is to campus.

Chabad House

This Jewish student and community center sublets its large, attractive rooms for the summer. Prices range from $450-$620. The Chabad House is adjacent to the U-M central campus. Rooms are furnished; residents share a kitchen. Washer, dryer, cable TV, and internet provided. Males preferred. For more info, contact (734) 995-3276.

CMB Apartments

A local property management company, CMB maintains a detailed list of available sublets posted by its residents.

Craigslist

The Ann Arbor Craigslist housing section features listings for apartments and sublets across Ann Arbor. Please note that some listings on Craigslist are scams. We recommend reading Craigslist's guide for avoiding scams.

International House Ann Arbor

International House Ann Arbor \(IHAA\) is an intentional international, intercultural, interreligious living-learning community. One-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments are available. One- to four-month leases are available in the spring and summer. All apartments are air-conditioned, fully furnished, and have a bathroom, kitchen, and living room. Rates are $895-$1685 per month. For summer rates, contact IHAA at info@ihouseaa.org or (734) 662-5529.

ICC: Cooperative Student Housing

The Inter-Cooperative Council \(ICC\) has several co-op houses are within walking distance of the U-M central campus. ICC house members who live on the north campus or in the Escher House can travel to and from central campus on the U-M blue buses (free) or the Ann Arbor Area Transportation Authority buses (fee).

All central campus rooms are singles by default. All ICC houses come with fully-equipped kitchens, coinless laundry rooms, utilities, wireless internet, and TV lounges. Game rooms and workout facilities are "in house" at some of the ICC co-ops.

For more information, visit the ICC website or contact the ICC at info@icc.coop or (734) 662-4414, ext. 100.